Social Security Checks Fatter For 20 Million Americans

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 20 million Americans, young and old, are receiving fatter Social Security checks starting today.

And the government is adding nearly half a million more persons to the Social Security rolls under the legislation enacted by Congress late last year.

The benefit increase, at least 13 per cent for everyone and higher in some cases, is the first since a 7 per cent hike in July 1965.

The dollar total of the increase is the largest ever for the system: $2.9 billion over what would have been paid this year. The average couple's check goes from about $145 to $165.

Maximum benefits for a couple increases from $213 to $230; the maximum for a single person goes from $142 to $160. Smallest monthly payment to a worker who retired at age 65 reaches $55, from $44.

To finance the increase, the government will take a bigger bite from workers' earnings. But only one in four will have more deducted this year. That's because the percentage withholding stays the same this year—a maximum of 4.4 per cent—though it is applied now to earnings up to $7,800 instead of $6,000.

The take goes up thereafter, however, to a maximum of 5.9 per cent in 1967.

Congress also voted expanded coverage and benefits effective with today's checks.

People 72 or older who had little or no past earnings under Social Security will get $40 instead of $35 and couples receive $60 a month, an increase of $7.50.

Liberalized rules will add about 465,000 persons to Social Security rolls. About 175,000 are children of women workers who have died, retired or become disabled. About 100,000 others are workers who became disabled before age 31.

Widows can receive benefits as early as age 50 under the new law.

Another change permits Social Security beneficiaries to earn $1,680 a year before any deductions are made from benefits. The old figure was $1,500.

On April 1, several new benefits take effect in the medicare program of health care for the elderly under Social Security.

And persons 65 or over who have not signed up for the voluntary doctor-bill portion of medicare have until April 1 to do so. Otherwise they'll have to wait until 1969 to join. Monthly premium for the plan increases from $3 to $4 April 1.

Riot Controls Asked By LBJ Rated 'Unreal'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Appropriations Committee says programs recommended by the President's Commission on Civil Disorders could cost hundreds of billions of dollars and "this is wholly unrealistic."

The commission's report, added Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., "may raise hopes and expectations which could do more harm than good." He contended it is unsound to suggest that racial prejudice can be cured by spending huge sums of money.

His comments Friday joined a flow of criticism—most of it from Southern congressmen—directed at the findings of the group that spent seven months investigating last year's riots. Other congressmen praised the report.

In its summary, the commission urged massive, compassionate and sustained efforts to halt separation of the races, including programs to provide 2 million jobs, 6 million housing units, better school systems and a welfare system designed to guarantee "a minimum standard of decent living."

One commission member, Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., said many of the recommendations can be met by adopting legislation already before Congress, such as the civil rights bill.

Rep. James C. Corman, D-Calif., also a commission member, singled out help for the police, jobs for young people and summer education as "the most important aspects which need immediate attention before this summer."

Sen. Edward S. Muskie, D-Maine, called the report a "blunt appraisal of the injustices blighting the total environment of inner-city residents." And Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., called for steps to "let each individual walk with dignity."

Reaction from Southern members of Congress was harsh. "Propaganda ad nauseum," declared Rep. F. Edward Herbert, D-La.

The report, said Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., is unrealistic, highly exaggerated and "did the country a disservice."

"The answer to every problem seems to be to spend more of the taxpayers' money," said Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss. "There just isn't enough money to go around."

STRETCHING ON AND ON in a room the length of half a football field, files of income tax returns are sorted at the Philadelphia Internal Revenue Service Center as the annual report is made to Uncle Sam by taxpayers, Martha Feele, Levittown, Pa., foreground, and Mary Haverstock, Riverton, N. J., two IRS employees, are literally up to their ears in sorting the returns. (AP Wirephoto)

Why Don't You Act On Rights? Hart To Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The floor manager of the civil rights bill, impatient at the Senate's refusal to choke debate on it and get on to a vote, says Americans are asking: "What in God's name are you doing? Why don't you act?"

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., commented Friday as the Senate refused for a third time to vote for cloture. A fourth attempt will be made Monday but the outcome is in doubt.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who proposed the cloture move, said if the new attempt fails, he thinks Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield will want to put the bill aside and take up other legislation.

But Mansfield told newsmen only that he would assess the situation after the vote.

Four Votes Short

The cloture vote Friday was the first since the introduction of the compromise hammered out by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and a bipartisan bloc of liberals.

Dirksen had confidently predicted the cloture move would succeed, as had Hart. But the 59-35 vote was four short of the required two-thirds majority.

The only two Republican senators who joined with Dirksen in switching to support of cloture were his son-in-law, Howard H. Baker of Tennessee, and Len B. Jordan of Idaho. Nineteen other Republicans also voted for ending the debate.

In the earlier stages of the debate that began Jan. 17, Dirksen had fought against including open housing in the legislation and urged the Senate not "to gag itself" by voting for cloture. Sen. Sam J. Ervin, Jr., D-N.C., a leader of the Southern foes of the civil rights measure, was jubilant after the vote.

Gore Switches

"The minority leader, with all his dramatic somersaults, was able to carry only two Republican senators with him, and one of them was his son-in-law," Ervin told reporters.

The only Democrat who switched his position was Albert Gore of Tennessee. He voted against cutting off the debate after voting for cloture on the two previous tests.

He said the compromise bill had only been introduced Wednesday and senators had not had sufficient time to study it. He said he might vote for cloture later.

Mansfield said he is uncertain how Monday's vote will turn out. Dirksen, asked if a two-thirds majority could be obtained, said, "I'm not sure."

Repulse Red Probe

Some 500 Vietnamese rangers, guarding Khe Sanh along with 5,000 U.S. Marines against an expected massive Communist assault, repulsed 500 North Vietnamese who made a probing attack Friday.

Other South Vietnamese troops used the armored vehicles, personnel carriers with heavy machine guns, in a clash at the eastern end of the frontier. They were sweeping south of the Cua Viet River while a special U.S. Marine landing team of perhaps 1,000 men swept the north side, about seven miles south of the eastern end of the demilitarized zone.

The government forces reported killing 203 Communist soldiers, and said eight South Vietnamese were killed and 25 wounded.

The U.S. Marine unit came ashore from boats in the South China Sea more than a month ago for its operation in the enemy stronghold area, coastal marshlands dotted by villages, sand dunes and hedgerows.

22 Marines Die
It ran into heavy fire Friday and spokesmen said 36 Communists and 22 Marines were killed and 87 Marines wounded in the day-long battle that followed.

War's Heaviest Raids Protect Khe Sanh Base

SAIGON (AP) — Allied forces fought heavy battles at both ends of South Vietnam's northern frontier Friday and reported killing 330 enemy soldiers, many of them with a sheet of machine-gun fire from armored vehicles.

In the area of one of the battles, in which South Vietnamese rangers at Khe Sanh reported killing 70 enemy attackers Friday, U.S. B52 bombers and smaller fighter-bombers kept up what has become the biggest air campaign of the war.

The eight-engine B52s aimed 1.5 million pounds of bombs in 10 raids Friday and today at North Vietnamese troops tunneling toward the Khe Sanh combat base. One strike was only 750 yards from the allied positions and another was just 1,000 yards away, close enough to shake allied bunkers.

U.S. fighter-bombers flew 187 sorties in the area Friday and pilots reported setting off eight secondary explosions and several fires in a North Vietnamese storage area and truck park, indicating they hit ammunition or fuel.

Rockefeller Is Willing But Ducks Primaries

LBJ Woos Strays

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, winging around the country on what is officially considered a nonpolitical journey, predicts all Democratic strays will return to the fold—and be welcomed—once the party's presidential candidate is chosen.

This, along with a folksy off-the-cuff defense of administration policy on Vietnam, highlighted a Johnson speech at a Friday night testimonial dinner in Beaumont for Rep. Jack Brooks, a fellow Democrat.

The President was to fly to Marietta, Ga., to watch the unveiling of the nation's newest aerial giant—a military transport that is the world's largest in overall size, weight and air-lift capacity. Called the C-5A, the jet will roll off the production line of the Lockheed Georgia Co.

"I'm not too concerned about party conflicts," he said at Brooks' testimonial. "Next summer when the national convention chooses its nominee— whoever it is—then I believe all the strays are going to come back to the fold."

"And we're going to welcome them with open arms," Johnson's flying stops, in keeping with new White House policy, usually were announced one at a time, after his plane was airborne and on its way. The first stop was Houston and the Manned Space Flight Center where he tried to give a boost to space program morale sagging in the face of administration-sponsored budget cuts.

Then, in Beaumont, he visited an old folks home and handed out the first three pensioner checks reflecting bigger benefits voted by Congress last year.

His final stop of the day was at the Brooks dinner.

He defended the performance of the Saigon government and army. For example, he declared: "Certainly they have corruption... there's somebody stealing something in Beaumont right now."

Johnson Calls Copper Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has summoned all parties involved in a 22-state copper strike to the White House Monday, saying if the dispute isn't settled it could "begin to have a substantial impact on our defense effort."

The goal of the White House meeting of company and union chiefs, along with federal officials, is to achieve "round-the-clock bargaining."

"In my judgment, the national interest requires further and immediate governmental effort to resolve the copper strike," the President said Friday in a statement released during his visit here.

Some 50,000 workers in 26 unions are striking four major producers—Kennecott, American Smelt and Refining, Anaconda and Phelps Dodge.

The key issue is the unions' demand for companywide bargaining. This would mean each company would have to deal simultaneously with all unions representing its employees at all its facilities in several states, with a common work-contract expiration date for all unions.

"I shall request the parties to resume collective bargaining negotiations on an around-the-clock basis with the assistance of the secretaries of defense, labor and commerce," Johnson said.

Kelley also has been asked to probe any possible conflict of interest involving Philip J. May, MSU vice president for business affairs.

State Reps. William Hampton of Bloomfield Hills and Martin Butth of Comstock Park asked for the probe of Harlan, a Democrat.

They said Harlan was listed as chairman of the board of Harlan Electric Co. in the Michigan Manual of 1965-66 and also was identified as president or director of 10 affiliated companies.

In other recent labor disputes, the White House sponsored bargaining sessions that led to settlement of rail, steel and airline strikes.

Johnson said of the copper strike that "there is no foreseeable prospect" the companies and unions could settle the strike themselves in the near future.

MSU Trustee Denies Conflict

LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University Trustee C. Allen Harlan has angrily denied there is any conflict of interest between his business activities and his MSU post.

"I never made a red cent out of the university," Harlan said Friday after two Republican legislators asked Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley to check into any possible conflict of interest.

"Somebody is trying to do a hatchet job on me because I brought out the conflict of interest involving Phil May," Harlan said.

Kelley also has been asked to probe any possible conflict of interest involving Philip J. May, MSU vice president for business affairs.

State Reps. William Hampton of Bloomfield Hills and Martin Butth of Comstock Park asked for the probe of Harlan, a Democrat.

They said Harlan was listed as chairman of the board of Harlan Electric Co. in the Michigan Manual of 1965-66 and also was identified as president or director of 10 affiliated companies.

Nixon Declares GOP Will Not Draft Nominee

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he won't enter primary battles but is "ready and willing" to become the Republican presidential nominee if the party wants him.

But former Vice President Richard M. Nixon contends no one will be drafted for the nomination.

Rockefeller put himself on call Friday "to serve the American people" if there is "a genuine feeling on the part of the party that that's what they want."

He alone will decide, the governor told a news conference, and when and if there is sufficient evidence of support to indicate he could get the 667 convention votes necessary for the nomination. But he shied away from taking the usual political risk—primary fights—in pursuit of the prize.

In marching to the brink of active candidacy, the New York governor laid down some ground rules calculated to avoid any brawling contest in the primaries with Nixon. He will not let his name go on the ballot in any of them, he said, because to do so would cause dissension within the party.

Experience In 1944

Asked why such a move would threaten a party split, he replied: "Well, I had experience once before, four years ago."

This was a reference to his defeat by Barry Goldwater in the 1964 California primary which sealed Goldwater's nomination. It also was an allusion to complaints at that time by moderate Republicans that Rockefeller wouldn't get out of the way in time to let anyone else challenge Goldwater.

Rockefeller discounted in advance the effects of write-in drives for him. He said he will not visit either New Hampshire or Oregon where such drives are under way.

Rockefeller said there isn't time left to do anything effective in New Hampshire's March 12 primary. As for the May 28 Oregon primary, he said it would not be meaningful because Nixon would be the only major candidate entered there.

No Draft: Nixon

Campaigning in New Hampshire, Nixon said: "If Rockefeller doesn't enter the primaries he will not be nominated and I will be. No one is going to be drafted for this nomination. No one is going to back in."

The former vice president also made a quick visit to Washington, where he said—despite Rockefeller's announced intention not to campaign there—that the New Hampshire primary will be an important test of the governor's strength.

Although predicting victory for himself, Nixon estimated Rockefeller could get up 40 per cent of the vote.

Rockefeller said he is not going out to build any national organization.

But he invited supporters to do this in his behalf by saying: "If there is a group that feels strongly about the situation and wants to go out and organize, then I think that's part of a draft effort."

Plans Speeches

Rockefeller said he will start defining his positions on national issues in speeches, some of them outside his state. These will include the Vietnam issue, on which he has been silent for months.

He will have an opportunity to air his views in cross-country platform hearings to be held by the Republican Governors Association.

Striking Teachers Take Movie Parts

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A movie crew says striking public school teachers in Miami are taking advantage of their absence from the classrooms to break into the film industry.

A 20th Century-Fox spokesman says 206 teachers have registered for employment as extras in "The Lady in Cement," a film starring Frank Sinatra. He said most of the teachers will be used in a segment to be filmed Tuesday at a Miami race track.

Reuther Calls Unions To Hear Meany's 'Stagnation'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Auto Workers President Walter Reuther has called a private caucus to lay before other union chiefs his bitter charges against AFL-CIO President George Meany's leadership of American labor.

For more than a year, Reuther has been describing that leadership as "undemocratic," "complacent," "vegetating" and "stagnant."

"I want to talk with you about the differences between the Auto Workers and the AFL-CIO," Reuther said in telegrams inviting several union presidents to the caucus in New York's Roosevelt Hotel March 8.

Reuther appears nearing a decision on whether to pull his 1.5 million Auto Workers out of the 14-million-member AFL-CIO in what would be a major schism in labor's ranks.

Although it was not known how many invitations to the New York meeting went out, presidents of three AFL-CIO unions confirmed receiving them.

They are Max Greenberg of the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union; William Pollock, of the Textile Workers Union of America; and Charles Cogen of the American Federation of Teachers.

Some telegrams inviting union presidents were sent without stating the reason. Others said Reuther wanted to discuss his split with Meany, the man with whom he joined to merge the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations into the AFL-CIO in 1955.

Reuther and his Auto Workers Executive Board are meeting this weekend in Detroit, where union sources say Reuther may demand a special AFL-CIO convention or a meeting of the presidents of its 128 affiliated unions to discuss his demands for reform and "revitalization" of the labor federation.

The New York caucus called by Reuther mystified many labor leaders, and some union presidents were notable for their absence on Reuther's invitation list.

Some speculated Reuther was calling a caucus of former unions of the CIO, which Reuther headed before the merger with Meany's AFL.

"If somebody was trying to set up a CIO caucus, I can understand why I wasn't invited," said President Joseph A. Beirne of the Communications Workers of America which was in the old CIO.

"I don't think there is a CIO any more," Beirne added. "I thought the CIO was merged with the AFL in 1955."

But the invitation of Cogen, whose teachers' federation was an AFL union before the merger, appeared to indicate the Reuther caucus was broader than just former CIO friends.

The New York meeting precedes the March 11 opening of the convention in Washington of the AFL-CIO's Industrial Union Department. Reuther's last power base in the federation. He resigned as an AFL-CIO vice president and all other federation posts more than a year ago.

Reuther's decision to stay in or leave the AFL-CIO is considered crucial to whether he runs for re-election as president of the Industrial Union Department, which embraces more than 50 unions with some 6 million members.

The Industrial Union Department the past year virtually liquidated long-standing reserves of more than $2 million.

The money has gone for organizing drives and strike assistance to other unions while the Auto Workers cut off their own substantial financial contributions to the department.

In effect, the Auto Workers union has been spending its own money out of the Industrial Union Department treasury to help other unions.

Ten Are Injured In Area Mishaps

One person was hospitalized and nine others injured in traffic accidents in the Escanaba area Friday.

Leif L. Nelson, 65, of 204 S. 22nd St., was reported in fair condition at St. Francis Hospital this morning under treatment for injuries to his left shoulder and scalp lacerations.

Escanaba police said Nelson's car collided with a car driven by Floyd R. Lake, 72, of Gaylord, about 10 a.m. Friday at the intersection of S. 23rd and 8th Ave.

Lake and his wife, Frances, 70, were treated at St. Francis Hospital and released for slight injuries as a result of the accident.

Officers said Lake, who was going east on 8th Ave., drove into the intersection, colliding with Nelson's car which was southbound on 23rd St. Lake was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way.

Dale E. Ayotte, 20, of Hermansville, suffered minor injuries when his car collided with a station wagon driven by James R. Frye, 23, of Kingsford, at the intersection of S. 13th St. and 7th Ave., Escanaba police reported, and four persons were injured in a two-car accident on S. 23rd St. in the 40 block.

Officers said a car driven by Jerome McCullough, 29, of Harris, struck the rear of a car driven by Ruth C. Dubbelde, 42, of 625 Ogden Ave., as the Dubbelde car was stopped signaling for a turn.

Mrs. Dubbelde was treated at St. Francis Hospital and released. A passenger in her car, Sandra Karjal, 1701 5th Ave., S.; McCullough, and a passenger in his car, Perry L. Thunder, 36, Harris, also suffered minor injuries, officers said.

McCullough received a summons for failure to exercise due care and caution.

State Police of the Gladstone Post reported that Veronica C. Skrobicki, 46, of Rte. 1, Bark River, and a passenger in her car, Carol Murray, 26, Spalding, were injured when their car slid off U.S. 2 and 41 and struck a tree in Memory Lane west of Escanaba about 6:30 p.m.

Both were treated at St. Francis Hospital and released.

In other traffic activity Friday, police began issuing tickets for expired registration plates.

State Police ticketed George Anderson, Rapid River, expired registration plates and no operator's license; James P. Hughes Jr., Rte. 1, Gladstone, expired registration plates, and George A. Marcouiller, 912 5th Ave., S., expired registration plates on trailer.

Escanaba police ticketed four cars Friday night for improper parking, two of them blocking alleys and another blocking a driveway.

...ation beginning in Seattle, Wash., late this month.

Rockefeller stressed in a statement to a GOP governors caucus that met informally in Washington before the National Governors Conference wound up that he thinks the party wants a nominee "who can get enough independent and Democratic votes to get elected."

He's The Man

He left no doubt in subsequent remarks he thinks he is that man and doesn't believe Nixon can fill the bill.

Rockefeller made this statement after it became obvious that a move to have moderate Republican governors join in publicly urging him to get into the race had collapsed.

Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, a Rockefeller backer who heads the Republican Governors Association, said the governors will be talking with each other on the phone but he doubts they will meet again until June in Tulsa, Okla.

The expectation is that if Rockefeller is feeling by then, as he put it, a "natural and genuine and meaningful" draft, an effort will be made to get as many as possible GOP state executives on the line for him at that time.

Edison Sault Plans Building

Richard Y. Burnett, president of Edison Electric Co., announces that directors of the company have approved submission of plans by Davenport Associates, Inc., architects of Grand Rapids, for a new administration and engineering complex in Sault Ste. Marie for bidding.

Burnett said "our principal office building at 115 Ashmun St., has been occupied by the company since 1891. With the growth of the company and our staff, our present quarters are inadequate. The new complex will provide modern and attractive offices for our administrative staff, our accounting department, and our engineering department, which is presently located at our Sault hydro - electric plant building. Parking at our present site is also inadequate.

"The site of our new building is on property owned by us on the west side of the company power canal and south of our hydro facility.

"building will be a total electric environment building with electric heating, air conditioning and the latest in lighting. Our plans include a community and demonstration room which will be used by our Home Service Department and which will be available to area groups for meetings.

The new building will be a two-story structure, partly cut into the natural slope of the three acre site. From E. Portage Ave. the upper floor will give the appearance of a single level building. The design of the building will follow traditional lines to blend with future proposed development of the area.

Sisters Plan For '69 Meet

About 100 Franciscan Sisters of Christian Charity from Ironwood, Manistique, Marquette, Menominee, Petoskey and northern Wisconsin met at St. Anne's School today in preparation for a community-wide Chapter meeting in April, 1969.

The Sisters represent various communities formed at a previous regional meeting at Pre-montre High School in Green Bay, Wis., two weeks ago.

The communities will research and study various phases of community life, such as government and administrative structure, community growth, liturgy, vows, apostolate, education, health and retirement, etc.

The Sisters represent one region of the Franciscan community whose Motherhouse is at Manitowoc, Wis., Sister Emerita, region superior of the northern region, and her two councillors, Sisters Justina and Madonna, all of Green Bay, are attending.

Hosting the group at St. Anne's are Sister Andrea, principal, and Fr. Stephen Maryrand, pastor.

Escanaba Police Continue Probe Of Church B&E

Escanaba police said the church was entered by prying a heavy screen from a basement window. A desk in the pastor's office also was pried open.

Rev. Konstantin Wipp, who reported the breaking and entering Friday, said about $1 in small change and two checks totaling $35 were taken from the church.

Delta Spud Sheds Are Almost Empty

When Irish romantic tenor Fiske O'Hara toured the Upper Peninsula in shows written by Ann Nichols, who later became rich by writing "Abie's Irish Rose," he usually sang a song titled "In the Garden Where the Pradies Grow."

If O'Hara could come back to the Upper Peninsula today he would see its prairie patches greatly changed. They are of great size compared to their old dimensions—a 500 bushel harvest was once regarded as a pretty good crop—and there aren't nearly so many of them today.

The potato industry today is highly specialized. Farmers say: "You had better be in it up to your neck or not in it at all."

Today potato farms must grow the species of potatoes that the market calls for—for fresh use, chipping, baking, processing, etc.—must stimulate the crop with fertilizer, guard it in a modern warehouse, wash and bag the tubers in handy units, use sprout inhibitor on the late sale part of the crop, and know where and when to sell it.

Good Condition

Delta County's major potato growers, meeting Thursday night at the Delta County Building with Michigan State University potato and soils specialists, reported the county's spud industry in good condition.

There's not the same happy state of affairs in the Copper Country, which shares with the Dickinson County area the No. 1 spot in U.P. potato growing, Delta is third.

Much of the Copper Country's 1967 harvest still is in warehouses with no market available. The area has now been granted aid by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, which will buy the surplus crop, expose it to freezing and destruction and pay the growers 75 cents per hundredweight. It costs about $1.50 a hundredweight to produce potatoes.

Orderly Marketing

Delta County growers, who have as many as 40,000 bushels of potatoes in individual farm warehouses, started marketing their late crop last November and are "almost cleaned out," they report. They marketed their potatoes as they could and almost all of them went to the fresh market in the super markets and the trade had a heavier than usual volume going across the Mackinac Bridge to markets in Lansing and Detroit and other Lower Michigan cities. U.P. potato marketing is historically oriented toward Wisconsin and Chicago.

It costs the Copper Country about 10 cents a hundredweight more than the Delta area to market in Lower Michigan because of distance, and the varieties of potatoes grown is also reported to be a factor in Delta's greater success in marketing. Copper Country growers keep growing some varieties that the markets don't fancy.

Care Of Crop

The potato farmers meeting with the MSU specialists was so lively that it lasted until 11:30. Dick Chase, crops specialist told newest techniques in planting to assure 95 per cent stands instead of 70 per cent stands, with nearly all the seed translated into potato bearing plants. Less Crime News

The American Bar Association House of Delegates has voted overwhelmingly to adopt a code of standards for pre-trial reporting of crime news.

The code, developed by a committee headed by Justice Paul Reardon of the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court is aimed at prosecutors, defense lawyers and the courts as well as the mass news media. Its main intent is to curb out-of-court talk by judges and other persons of the courts before the end of a trial.

Before then the code would permit only report on the name of the person accused of the crime, the time and place of arrest, information about whether the person resisted or was armed at the time of the arrest, a description of any evidence seized and the charge.

Police would be barred from revealing any previous record, the results of fingerprinting and lie detector tests, and whether the accused had confessed. Identity of witnesses could not be reported nor opinions on guilt or innocence.

For persons who violate the code the ABA proposes court penalties including contempt-of-court citations.

Newsmen would be free to print anything they could find out, except during the trial itself, when they would have a duty not to write anything that would affect the outcome of the trial.

It was generally expected that state bar associations would adopt the ABA rules and that many judges would apply them in their courts.

Newspapers reacted with dismay, fearful that in an effort to build up due process of law in the conduct of criminal trials, the bar was shortening up the First Amendment of the U. S. Constitution: "Congress shall make no law . . . abridging freedom of speech, or of the press . . ."

The Baltimore Sun said "the dangers the restrictions would allegedly avert are smaller by far than the dangers inherent in a removal of law enforcement officers, district attorneys and judges from sharp and constant surveillance."

Time Magazine said "Such worries seemed exaggerated, but if the rules are stringently enforced — which remains to be seen — reporting court cases will be very different and more difficult."

The Miami Herald said "What the bar association now proposes is to manage the news about crime which is at the heart of a domestic crisis."

"An arrogant, presumptuous move," said the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, and the Washington Post suggested "What is needed is not less but more scrutiny of the country's police, prosecutors and judges."

If the result of the code is elimination of sloppy or sensational reporting that slurs and endangers accused persons it will be an addition to justice. If it gives our legal processes excessive protection from scrutiny it will work against the public interest.

The public should remember that less than 10 per cent of all felony cases ever come to trial. The rest are settled by dismissals, or by guilty pleas, usually after a negotiation between defense and prosecution for probation, leniency of sentence or some other consideration.

The inside view of justice in America reveals some conditions that need correction, but the ABA method also raises some concerns. The code is already at work in American policing practice and it becomes more difficult to learn what is happening. An ideal situation would be a general state of judicious restraint in reporting, but this is almost impossible to achieve so we're trying to remedy the situation with one more rule.

Inner Search

Bustling, energetic Americans periodically have love affairs with the quiet, contemplative philosophies of the East.

A few years ago, Zen Buddhism was the rage of intellectual circles. In the 1920s and '30s, the writings of Kahlil Gibran were on the best-seller lists. Yoga exercises have always commanded a small but faithful body of practitioners.

Rapidly becoming an international celebrity today, thanks to his winning of such disciples as the Beatles and other well-known personalities, is Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, a Hindu teacher who preaches "transcendental meditation" as the cure for the world's ills.

Some who have tried it say it relieves anxieties and tensions and enables one to live his life in a more natural, spontaneous way.

And more and more people are trying it — most of them, inevitably, young people on college campuses. The recently founded Students' International Meditation Society has more than 1,000 members on the West and East coasts.

Altogether, says Associated Press religion writer George W. Cornell, there are more than 100 Hindu teaching centers in the United States, many of them started in recent years. Mahesh's International Meditation Society now has 50 centers around the world, with headquarters at a "plush center" in Uttar Pradesh, India, where meditation rooms have soundproof walls and indirect lighting.

The appeal of Oriental philosophy to students, says the Rev. Richard R. Russell, Catholic chaplain at Yale University, "seems to come from a kind of frustration with social activism, a sense of despair at trying to change the ghettos or stop the war, and a turning to a more inner search."

A little meditation and introspection probably never hurt anyone. But if, as the Rev. Russell thinks, American students' interest in passive, private meditation stems from despair and frustration at trying to improve the world, this is not an encouraging development.

Whatever their excesses, we will take the social activists over the navel contemplators and exchange for the wisdom of the East, one sentence from Edmund Burke: "The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing."

About all that Hindu meditation has accomplished for India over the centuries has been to enable generations of swamis to remain serenely oblivious to the human misery around them.

Curtain Down

Third-graders in an Ohio school were reading about the reopening of Ford's Theatre in Washington. They were asked why they thought plays were not shown there for so many years.

Submitted one little lad: "After Lincoln was killed he could not come any more."

Well, that's true enough.

Students Revealed As 'Solid Citizens'

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — News reports on a four-year survey of students at Stanford University and the University of California have left unsaid very pertinent findings on student beliefs.

Studies of 1,000 men and women students showed attitudes toward family life, human values and ambitions which vary greatly from those one would imagine from the publicity given student riots and student marches in the nation's colleges.

The women seniors at both Stanford and California seem to have said overwhelmingly that when they were married they wanted their husbands to wear the pants in the family.

Faced with the statement: "After I am married, when it comes to making decisions, if I had to choose one or the other, I would want my (husband's) wishes to have priority," a whopping 82 per cent of the women questioned said "yes." Only about one in nine wanted her wishes to have priority over her husband's.

Most of the senior women, in fact, said they "would not want a husband who could not control me." Only 7 per cent of the women questioned disagreed strongly with this idea.

A third of the senior men apparently did not get the message. They said they would want their wives' wishes to have priority over theirs in making decisions, if it had to be one or the other.

Each of the senior students questioned listed three things he expected to be most important in his life after graduation. In addition to his career, these objectives turned out to be "relations and activities with future family," "love and affection" and "developing a personal identity."

All through the questioning, the great need felt for building a home life, the urge for love and affection and the quest for finding themselves seemed to be uppermost in the minds of a majority of senior students. The primary needs the students listed also included a desire for "emotional well-being," "maintaining self-respect" and "being accepted and liked by others."

Wealth, fame and recognition, sexual needs, sensory and aesthetic pleasure were listed as among the three most important human needs by only a tiny minority.

One out of nine of the Stanford senior men and between a fourth and a fifth of the senior women said that they prayed "frequently."

Another quarter said they prayed "occasionally."

Most of those who prayed said they did so "because it puts me in touch with a power greater than myself," to find out what God's will is or "because I feel anxious."

Now these are not the "wild" thoughts of people who are about to do violent harm to society. These are, on the whole, quite conservative views.

It would be well to judge our college students, not by the gyrations of small minorities, but by the quiet beliefs of the majority.

Bureaucrats existed in Sumnerian society. A chronicler of about 2350 B.C. wrote, "The petty official who brought the dead to the cemetery has to be paid off with seven pitchers of beer and 420 loaves of bread. And the tax collectors lurk everywhere."

First Union victory of the Civil War was the Battle of Vicksburg, W. Va., June 3, 1861.

Pierre Jais is the greatest bridge player in France and one of the greatest in the world. Unlike many great tournament players he prefers rubber bridge to duplicate.

He played today's hand some years ago in a rubber bridge game. He uses it to describe how a man who is alert to what is going on around the table can profit by it.

His own story is that when West opened a club East shrugged his shoulders a trifle as if to say, "What can you do with such a partner?"

This didn't affect the early play. Jais took his ace of clubs and finessed hearts unsuccessfully. East returned a heart. Jais took dummy's ace and led a heart to his own hand to pull East's last trump.

At this point Jais went back to that shrug by East and also to East's double of six hearts. Obviously East wasn't doubling on his king of trumps. He must have been using a Lightner slam double to ask for an unusual lead. It might have been for a spade but a diamond lead would have been even more unusual. Of course, East had wanted a diamond lead.

There is a normal safety play with this diamond holding which is to lead the king first. Then if East did show out the double finesse would be marked. Jais started to lead the king, then noted that if he did that West could play the 10 of diamonds on the second lead of the suit and Jais would have to lead another trump to get back to his own hand. He could run diamonds and discard a spade but would be left with a losing club.

Desperate measures were necessary. Jais knew that he would look mighty silly if the play he intended to make went wrong but he wanted to make his slam. He took a deep breath and led a low diamond toward dummy. West did the best he could. He played his seven of diamonds but Jais finessed dummy's nine!

Ann Landers

Good Manners Can Seldom Be Forced

Dear Ann Landers: One of the best things about your column is that it presents proof positive — every day — that it takes all kinds of people to make a GA world.

I refer to the letter from the woman who called her husband a jerk because he was always knocking himself out doing favors for people. It seems she was mad at him because he loaned money, let neighbors borrow his garden tools, fixed things that broke — the list was a long one.

I wish I could trade husbands with her. She would love Harold. He refuses to lend a neighbor a screwdriver. He won't let me drive my cousin to the hospital to see her father because "I am not running a taxi service." I can't befriend a young girl who had a baby out of wedlock because "she made her bed, now let her lie in it."

Harold is a good provider. We have all the necessities and many of the comforts, but he is unable to open his heart and do an act of kindness. How can I raise our children to be generous and considerate with a father who is so selfish and cold? — ICY WINDS

Dear Icy: By being twice as generous and considerate to make up for Harold's unfortunate limitations. Make certain your husband doesn't deny you the right to do the things you want to do. If he doesn't wish to lend a screwdriver to a neighbor that's up to him. But if you want to befriend a young girl who had a baby out of wedlock, (or anyone else, for that matter) that's up to you.

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to address a few remarks to the college student whose roommate stood on his head a lot and made terrible crashing noises when he fell to the floor. The boy may be improving his thinking processes by allowing the blood to circulate through his brain, but he may wreck his spine.

Any serious student of the Hindu philosophy of Yoga knows that holding a position is only part of the exercise. Getting into and out of a position is of the utmost importance.

Yoga means youth. Youth means agility and grace. No exercise is done properly if there is jerking, or falling. All moves must be graceful, as if in slow motion. These slow - motion moves protect the body against injury. So please don't suggest that the roommate surround

Social Worker Guest Speaker At Nurses Meet

Registered nurses met at a dinner meeting at the House of Ludington, Tuesday night to hear Mrs. Peggy Hanson, social worker from Pinecrest Medicare Facility, speak on Title 18 and 19 of the Social Security Act and its application locally.

Mrs. Hanson has been employed at Pinecrest since September and assisted with many of the emotional problems as well as social adjustments of newly admitted patients.

She spoke of the eligibility requirements and stated that currently hospital patients are given priority in admission to Pinecrest. In assisting the patient in his adjustment to Pinecrest the social worker visits the family and the hospital worker to facilitate transfer and meet the needs and wants of the patient.

Nurses were also reminded of Michigan Nurse Week which is April 1-7. Mrs. Gladys Emerson and Sister Mary of St. Francis hospital were appointed as chairmen to direct activities.

It was also decided to develop a Nurse Private Duty Registry for St. Francis Hospital and the surrounding area. Committee members appointed develop such a registry include Sister Mary, Elizabeth Nelson, Dorothy Lippold, Kathryn Pearson and a private duty nurse not yet selected. After establishment of the Registry its functioning will be managed by the Delta District Nurses Association.

The members of the district also felt that an attempt should be made to interest MSU in starting an inservice education program for nurses locally. Currently the Kellogg Foundation has granted funds to Michigan State to assist in the establishment of noncredit nurse courses in different areas of the state. Recent meetings were held at Houghton, Marquette and St. Ignace.

Honor 1918 Vets At VFW Dinner

Over 75 guests were present Thursday night when the Veterans of Foreign Wars held their fifth annual banquet honoring the World War I veterans, their wives and widows, at the VFW Hall.

Lionel Mercier, veterans counselor, served as toastmaster.

Mercier noted that "this year is the 50th anniversary of the signing of the World War I armistice. The hopes and dreams of the peace envisioned by that signing have been shattered many times. However, we must continue to work and pray for peace."

A moment of silence was observed in respect to the memory of the 28 veterans who have died since the banquet was held last year.

Greetings were extended by Ralph Deloria, VFW commander; Clifford Cool, representing American Legion Post 83; Paul Dragos, 14th District Commander of the VFW; and Archie Carpenter, chairman of the All-Vets Committee.

Hans Lund, commander of the WWI barracks, responded on behalf of the WWI group. Mrs. Roy LaMarche played the piano for group singing and dancing which followed the banquet.

Don Martin was general chairman of the dinner assisted by John Benish, Bill Sheldon, Robert Broullire, Pete Hamiel, Jules Rivard, Lloyd Brown, Jerome Beaudry and Edward Jorgenson.

Draft Boards Get Guidelines

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Selective Service headquarters has issued additional guidelines for granting student and occupational deferments but emphasizes that local boards must continue to use their own discretion.

"Each local board will continue to consider occupational deferment requests in individual cases based on strong evidence of essentiality," the draft headquarters said.

"New requests for occupational deferments will be critically reviewed in the light of current military manpower requirements."

Local boards were advised they will not be able to defer students who enrolled for graduate study after last October in fields other than medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, osteopathy and optometry.

Graduate students now in their first year of graduate study may be allowed to complete that year. Graduate students completing their second year of graduate study may be allowed to complete doctoral training programs.

Apprentices in approved training programs may continue to be deferred.

"Trust the care of your clothes to your Sanitone Certified Master Drycleaner," say the biggest names in clothing!

Melton McGovern

Big names like McGregor, Haggard, Botany 500, Serbin. If you read magazines like VOGUE, GLAMOUR, HARPER'S BAZAAR, ESQUIRE, MADEMOISELLE or SPORTS ILLUSTRATED, you've probably seen where these and other leading clothiers have endorsed our Sanitone drycleaning.

They do it because they're convinced we can be depended on to get clothes cleaner than any other method. But you don't need to take my word for it or their word either. Come in and see for yourself.

This fabulous cleaning action is made possible by Sanitone's great breakthrough in drycleaning chemistry. The Sanitone process not only gets out all the dirt, it keeps it from being redeposited on fabrics during the cleaning cycle. This explains why whites come out whiter and colors brighter. And this is the reason why our Sanitone drycleaning is recommended by all the famous names above plus Catalina, White Stag, Sportmaker by Maidenform, Worsted-Tex, and many others.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

Dear Pat...

I know it has been a long time since I've written. As you can imagine, I've been very busy getting settled here. Everyone has been wonderful, and what an experience it is teaching these first grade children! It's a real thrill to watch them as they learn to read. I've already met some wonderful people, both here at school and in church...

So she writes her letter, and although "it has been a long time..." these words will stretch across the miles and the fibres of this friendship will be as strong as ever.

If you were never to write a letter you would lose touch with people who mean a great deal to you. By the same token, if you never were to go to church, you would fail to keep the fabric of your faith woven tight and strong. True, you might still believe firmly in God, but the affirmation and continued growth of this faith requires worship in His presence and in His house.

Thinking about a friend isn't the same thing as writing a letter to him — wanting to be in that person's presence. Believing in God isn't the same as professing that belief by attending church regularly.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...

... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Crusaders Close Season By Defeating Kingsford

Down by four at halftime, the Holy Name Crusaders rallied to a 79-73 decision over the Kingsford Flivvers in a Great Northern conference contest at the Holy Name gym last night. The victory closed the Crusader season on a winning note as they won their last three games.

Holy Name started strong but Kingsford came roaring back in the first quarter to push past the Crusaders. High scoring Tim Kearney, 6 foot 2 inch Kingsford senior, paced the rally as he scored eight straight points to put the Flivvers ahead at the break. Kingsford, ahead 20-17, held the ball for a last second shot but Crusader guard, Al Grabowski, stole the ball and, at the buzzer, made the first of his long jumpers to end the quarter at 20-19.

Dufour Hits Target
Strong shooting from the outside and the foul line kept Kingsford ahead in the second period. Terry Dufour, Holy Name's 6 foot 4 inch center did some long range shooting himself to keep the Crusaders within range.

The outside shooting of Grabowski and Steve Houle, replacing foul-ridden Chris Young, accounted for Holy Name's 22 points third quarter and pushed them into the lead again. Grabowski hit jump shots from 20 and 25 feet with remarkable accuracy. His big shot came at the sounding of the quarter buzzer to put the Crusaders ahead 56-54.

The fourth quarter belonged to the Crusaders as Kingsford had to foul to get the ball and Holy Name players drove the free throws home.

Berdinner Gets 27
Dufour led the Holy Name scoring attack with 22 points. He was followed by Grabowski.

Minnesota Sets Sights On Big Ten Track Title

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ambitious Minnesota set its sights today on the Big Ten indoor track and field championship but defending titlist Wisconsin still looked formidable enough to repeat.

The Gophers, posting best times in three of the half-dozen semifinal events in Friday's preliminaries, qualified eight runners and jumpers for today's 14-event finale.

Two champs were dethroned in the tuncup that also saw Big Ten hurdles king Mike Butler equal two records and Michigan's Larry Midiam set one that lasted only five minutes.

Butler and Midiam figured to give the French Field House audience a good show in both the 70-yard high and low hurdles.

when he finished fourth in his semifinal heat.

Wisconsin was runner-up to the Gophers with seven qualifiers while Michigan and Michigan State each picked up five.

Mike Mondane of Iowa, the defending champ in the 440, showed well with a 48.4 in his specialty posting the best time in the event.

Living Costs
Jumped Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose three-tenths of one per cent in January — increasing for the fourth month in a row — with grocery prices and doctor bills leading the way, the Labor Department said today.

Grocery prices, which usually hold steady in January, went up eight-tenths of one per cent. Fees of doctors and dentists, the fastest rising item in the government's consumer price index for several years, went up another seven-tenths of one per cent last month.

The three-tenths increase in over-all living costs boosted the index to 118.6. This means it costs $11.86 to purchase items worth $10.00 in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the January figures probably understated price increases in January. "If it were not for the rounding of some of the figures, it could easily have been four-tenths of one per cent," he said.

The consumer index was 3.4 per cent above a year ago. The bureau reported wholesale prices of industrial commodities, farm products and processed foods were up four-tenths of one per cent in January and preliminary figures indicate another rise of six-tenths in February.

Oriental Dolls
Smuggle Drugs

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Detectives are checking oriental dolls mailed from Vietnam to see if a new wrinkle is being used to smuggle narcotics into the United States.

The investigation was started after two of the dolls sent to a soldier's girl friend turned out to have been stuffed with marijuana.

The soldier came home a few days after the dolls arrived and picked them up. Allegheny County Detective William Jennings said Friday. The veteran was arrested and charged with possession of narcotics. Jennings said. His name was not disclosed.

Jennings said officers had checked six more of the one-foot-tall dolls but had found no traces of drugs. The hollow plastic dolls hold about $500 worth of marijuana each, Jennings said.

Milliken Names
State Marriage
Counsel Board

LANSING (AP) — Appointment of the first seven-member state board of marriage counselors was announced Friday by Acting Gov. William Milliken.

The board, made up of one person each from the divinity, legal and medical professions and four marriage counselors, will operate within the Department of Licensing and Regulation.

It was established by legislation passed in 1966 and amended in 1967. Membership appointments require Senate confirmation.

Named to terms expiring June 21, 1968, were Dr. Sanford Izner, assistant professor of psychiatry at Wayne State University College of Medicine; Dolly Brenner, director of the Ann Arbor Family Service Society; and Dr. Arthur Riewald, director of Birmingham's marriage and family consultation program.

Appointed to terms expiring June 21, 1969, were Norman R. Robbins, chairman of the Detroit Bar Association's Family Law Committee; Dr. Thomas W. Kirkman Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Royal Oak; Dr. Aaron L. Rutledge of Grosse Pointe Park, psychotherapy director at Merrill-Palmer Institute; and Jack W. Frye, executive director of the Child and Family Service of Saginaw.

Taft Says Travel
Tax Is 'Band-Aid'

IONIA (AP)—U.S. Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, has labeled the Johnson administration's proposed tax on foreign travel "a typical Band-aid approach."

He also warned that it would "encourage widespread tax cheating while harassing American travelers."

Speaking at a Lincoln Day dinner sponsored by Ionia County Republicans here, Taft also accused the Johnson administration of using the Vietnam war as "an excuse for the serious fiscal difficulties of the United States."

April Draft Here Will Not Require Married Men

Faced with the largest induction call in April since the Vietnam buildup, many Michigan draft boards will find it necessary to induct registrants married before Aug. 26, 1965, who do not have children, state Selective Service officials announced.

Mary M. Wagner, clerk of local Selective Service Board 21 in Escanaba, said that this will not apply in Delta County for the month of April. The Delta County call for April is six men, she said, and there are already two volunteers.

The state call for 3,664 registrants for April induction will be allocated to both the Army and Marine Corps. Allocation of inductees to the two services is accomplished by a random assignment system at armed forces examining stations at Detroit and Milwaukee. Local Draft boards have no control over such assignments.

To fill the April call, local boards will first order volunteers, single registrants and registrants married after August 26, 1965. If necessary, the balance of the call will be filled with registrants married before August 26, 1965, who do not have children. Induction ages are 19 through 25, with the oldest registrants selected first in age sequence.

Teacher Strikes Defy Settlement

By The Associated Press Hopes dimmed over the weekend for settlement of at least two of three teacher strikes, as a compromise proposal to end the Florida walkout was scrapped and Pittsburgh teachers threatened all-out picketing Monday in defiance of a court ban.

In San Francisco, two special mediators were named by Mayor Joseph Alioto to start work on issues which led to a strike Friday and a student rampage at a high school.

In Tallahassee, Fla., Friday, Florida State School Supt. Floyd

Christian—with opposition mounting to his "honorable solution" of the two-week walkout—canceled a special session of the State Board of Education for Monday and withdrew the proposal.

Objections had poured in from state officials and county school representatives opposing Christian's compromise which would have given teachers the right of collective bargaining at the county level.

The strike by a third of the state's 60,000 teachers has kept more than a half-million of Florida's 1.3 million students out of classes.

Gov. Claude Kirk called the proposal, backed by the Florida Education Association, a "complete sell-out."

In Pittsburgh, a third of the steel city's 3,000 teachers were off the job Friday. The city's 88 elementary schools remained open but junior and senior high schools were closed at least until next Tuesday.

Members of the Pittsburgh Federation of Teachers went on strike Thursday morning despite a court ban. A judge also banned picketing, and said the edict would be backed up next week "by force if necessary."

Friday night Albert Fondy, president of the striking union, said the teachers would throw up "the biggest picket line in the history of Pittsburgh."

State Payments Rise Downstate

LANSING — Michigan's Department of Conservation recently mailed checks covering $266,000 of the record $413,000 it owes 40 Lower Peninsula counties as 1967 tax payments for purchased state conservation lands below Townline 16.

The remaining $147,000 yet to be paid exceeds the department's current appropriation for these tax payments. The department has asked the Legislature for a deficiency appropriation covering that amount, and it hopes to distribute the balance of payments by mid-year.

The department's latest tax bill of $413,000 follows up $806,400 that it paid in lieu of taxes early this year for about four million acres of mostly tax-reverted state holdings under its jurisdiction.

Most of those earlier payments—nearly $793,300—went to northern counties above Townline 16 for their larger share of purchased, tax-reverted, and gifted state lands. The remaining $13,130 was paid to counties below that dividing line for their comparatively low acreages of tax-reverted and gifted state lands administered by the department.

The department's earlier payments were made at the flat rate of 20 cents per acre as set by law.

Those paid more recently were for purchased conservation lands below Townline 16 not covered by the first payments. They were pegged exactly to prevailing local millage rates, the same as those set for private property.

The tax total for these southern purchased state lands is about $73,000 above last year, due in part to a new requirement that all property be assessed higher at 50 per cent of cash value. Also raising the department's tax tab for these lands are increases since last year in the millage rates of some southern townships.

Senators Joseph Mack (D-Ironwood) and Thomas Schweigert (R-Petoskey) have introduced legislation to require payment of the ad valorem tax on lands purchased by the state for recreational purposes above townline 16. The Conservation Department estimates that the plan would require an additional $500,000 state appropriation each year to give equal tax treatment to Northern Michigan.

Nursing Care Changes Told

The greater change in the healing arts was stressed by Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, in a commencement address to 24 members of the fifth graduating class from Bay de Noc Community College's School of Practical Nursing at Escanaba Area High School auditorium Friday evening.

Medical science has moved ahead so rapidly in this century, said Worth, that the conditions prevailing at the turn of the century are almost unbelievable. A Menominee newspaper reported in 1899 that John Oliver passed through the city on foot, walking the 110 miles from Ford River to Green Bay for treatment of a broken arm.

Articles like these weren't uncommon: "Joe Venisky was operated on without enough success to insure recovery and he will be buried tomorrow from the Polish Church." And "The full grown boy of Moses Planchette who has been insane since childhood and confined in a cage to prevent him from injuring people, was taken to the county poor house Wednesday."

In 1941 newspaper suggested "An investigation shows that motion pictures are a strong contributing factor to St. Vitus dance among children."

Hospitals were places for homeless men, said Worth, surgery was still uncertain and specific drugs were only emerging. Quarantine and fumigation were still practiced, although neither was effective.

The nursing class was told it will see a continuation of medical change and improvement, with socialized welfare controls a strong element in practice. The speaker said that nurses should be as concerned with the healing arts as with nursing science, because health rests so importantly upon the mind and spirit.

Miss Camille Rabito, clinical instructor, presented the class and Mrs. Elizabeth Goulais, director of the nursing school, pinned the graduates. Dr. Richard Rinehart stressed the complexity of nursing preparation today and Bay College's enlarging preparations to deal with this and other area training problems. Chairman Joseph Heirman of the college board of trustees said that the college welcomes students from general area and that its benefits are not limited to Delta County students. Members of the class ranged from Caspian to Manistiquie.

The Rev. Ben Helmer asked the blessings and Mrs. Marie Peterson directed the college Madrigal group in two selections.
